

Speaking in connection with the case of John Dinnick, who was sentenced to serve two years in the house of correction, charged with extortion here Tuesday, Judge Backus said: "Black mail is, in my opinion, the worst criminal offense and no pains will be spared to apprehend every person extorting money in Milwaukee."

POSTAL RECEIPTS HERE SHOW GAIN OVER LAST YEAR

Business is Picking Up in Dullest Period of Year—Others Show Losses

While many of the largest post-offices of the country have experienced an unprecedented falling off of business during the last few months, Appleton postoffice comes "smiling" through with a decided increase in the amount of business handled.

Postal receipts for the period from July 1 to Sept. 30 amount to $24,230.45 which represents an increase of $2,274.07 over the receipts for the same period last year, according to the quarterly report. It is pointed out that this increase cannot be considered indicative of the general increase of business because the report covers the dullest period of the year. It is believed that the increase in the present quarter will far surpass that of a similar period in preceding years.

The number of insured parcels delivered during the quarter was 4,763 which is an increase of 459 for the same quarter last year. C. O. D. parcels numbered 883 which is an increase of 93 over the same period last year. Registered letters received for delivery numbered 3,409 as compared to 3,244 for the preceding similar period. Registered letters sent out numbered 3,563 compared with 3,095 last year.

Domestic money orders issued numbered 7,050 as compared to 6,375 last year. Only six foreign money orders were issued as compared to 17 last year. Unsettled conditions in Europe and the international status of this country is blamed for the decrease.

ROADS AGREE TO SHIELD AUTOISTS

City Attorney Receives Assurance "Flying" Switches Will not be Made

Assurance that the Chicago and Northwestern railroad will refrain from making "flying" switches at Lake Street crossing the "possible" danger to autoists is contained in a letter addressed by Marvin Hughitt, Jr., vice president of the road, to the railroad commission. A copy of the letter was forwarded to Theodore Berg, city attorney, who asked the commission to order these switching methods stopped.

Mr. Hughitt explains that most of the switching south of the river is done in the east yards, and that railway brakemen personally control the Lake Street crossing in addition to the flagman's service when cars had to be shunted across. The crews have been ordered to refrain from further use of the flying switch at the crossing.

A reply received by the commission several days ago from Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, gave like assurances that Lake Street crossing would be protected in accordance with the commission's attention after autoists had complained of the danger to which they were subjected.

NEAR EAST LEADERS TO MAKE PLANS FOR YEAR

Mrs. Edward Zekind of South Kaukauna will represent Outagamie county at the conference of Near East relief workers of the state which will be held Friday in Milwaukee.

This conference is an annual event but it is believed that the problems of Armenian and other Near East relief work confronting it this year are far more grave than they have ever been. According to Dr. William E. Daugherty, associate general secretary of Near East relief, who will arrive from Europe to attend the conference, conditions among the people of Armenia and other parts of Turkey are appalling.

Resume Matinees

Children's matinees in connection with community day at the First Congregational church are to be resumed for the season at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, when "The Old Swinamin' Hole" will be shown in moving pictures. The program for adults will be presented at 7:30 in the evening.

Farmer's Wife Finally Freed From Torturing Backache.

Enduring backaches so intense that sharp knives could not have hurt more, Mrs. A. J. Robbins of Quebec, Wis., regained health and happiness through Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Weakened kidneys made her case seem hopeless. Her back muscles were so stiff and weak she could not rise from a chair. Doctors' treatments, medicine—nothing helped. Despairing, Mrs. Robbins was finally induced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. It is a remarkable story she has regained her former good health—she is now free from all kidney ills. Mrs. Robbins writes: "I had not been taking Dodd's Kidney Pills long before this trouble left me. I cannot say too much in praise of Dodd's.

Sufferers from headaches, backaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains or swollen joints can get this same glorious, permanent relief. Ask your druggist for DODD'S, the original—three D's in name, or mail 60 cents direct to Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—a large box will be sent at once.

Outagamie County Crops Are Better Than Average

Outagamie-co. led five surrounding counties in the production per acre of wheat and oats for the 1921 season, according to the monthly report of the Wisconsin state department of agriculture. It was second in the yield per acre of corn for silage and of barley.

Brown-co. led in the production of silage corn. There the yield per acre was 10.2 tons, compared with 9.6 tons in this county. Winnebago was third with a yield per acre of 9 tons. Other yields were: Calumet-co., 8.5 tons; Shawano-co., 8.6 tons and Shawano-co., 7.8 tons.

An average for the last five years shows that the average yield of silage corn per acre in Brown-co. is 8.61 tons; Outagamie-co., 8.10 tons; Winnebago-co., 8.12 tons; Calumet-co., 8 tons; Shawano-co., 8.5 tons.

Oats yielded 31 bushels per acre in Outagamie-co., 26 bushels in Brown-co., 25 bushels in Calumet and Waupaca counties, 22 bushels in Shawano-co. and 20 bushels in Winnebago-co.

In Outagamie-co. alone did the yield of oats approach anywhere near the average crop for the last five years. Winnebago-co. has the record of 42.4 bushels per acre which is the highest five year average for any county in this section and yet this year's crop was much less than that of the other counties with a considerably lower average. The average for the last five years places Outagamie-co.'s yield of oats at 39.6 bushels per acre so that this year's crop is about 8 bushels less than normal while Winnebago-co.'s production is less than half the normal crop.

Outagamie-co.'s yield of 23 bushels of barley per acre places it second to Brown-co., where the yield was 24 bushels. Other counties had bushels per acre as follows: Waupaca-co., 23; Winnebago-co., 22; Calumet-co., 21 and Shawano-co., 17.

Barley production in Waupaca-co. more nearly approached the five year average yield than in any other county. Outagamie-co. was eight bushels short of the average yield. Winnebago-co. experienced practically the same decrease and so did Calumet-co. Brown-co. was six bushels behind normal production as was also Waupaca-co. The yield of barley in Shawano-co. was nearly 13 bushels less than normal.

A yield of five tons of cabbage per acre places Outagamie-co., third among the counties of this section. Waupaca-co. leads with a yield of eight tons per acre and Brown-co. is second with a yield of 5½ tons. The average yield of cabbage in Winnebago-co. was four tons per acre.

Average of yields for the last five years indicates that the cabbage crop in Waupaca-co. more nearly approaches normal and is for approximate estimation a normal crop. The cabbage crop in Brown-co. was little more than the normal yield while Outagamie-co. farled a little better with a yield that was 60 per cent of normal.

Average yields of cabbage for the last five years in the counties of this section is as follows: Brown-co., 10.02 tons; Outagamie-co., 8.7 tons; Waupaca-co., 8.62 tons; Winnebago-co., 8.4 tons; Calumet-co., 7.78 tons; and Shawano-co., 6.50 tons.

Outagamie-co. has the highest estimated yield of 63 bushels of potatoes per acre. Shawano-co. is second with a production of 61 bushels. Yields in other counties are: Brown-co., 60 bushels; Winnebago-co., 54 bushels; Calumet-co., 52 bushels and Waupaca-co., 48 bushels.

FEW "FOREIGN" CARS PASSING THROUGH CITY

Foreign cars have about disappeared from the Yellowstone trail and trunk lines passing through Appleton. Those still seen are occupied almost exclusively by hunters either headed for or returning from the northern lake region. One of the latest camping parties to enjoy the hospitality of the city was the family of a cripple, parents and two children, traveling in an inclosed motor truck. The family parked its truck in the city fair grounds and remained here several days. It was on its way home from the copper country to Kentucky. The head of the family had a specially designed tray for getting about and sold lead pencils and other articles with which to defray his expenses. The truck was fitted up as a home in which the family lived.

STATE MEETING OF YELLOW TRAIL WILL BE HELD NOV. 14

Appleton Entitled to 26 Delegates at Stevens Point Conference

Appleton may send 26 delegates to the eighth annual state meeting of the Yellowstone Trail association which will be held at Stevens Point, Monday, Nov. 14, according to an announcement received from the general offices of the association at Minneapolis.

Cities and towns are entitled to delegates and votes in this meeting on a basis of one vote for each $10 assessment paid to the association during 1921. Neighboring towns and villages may send the following number of delegates: Fond du Lac, 33; Oshkosh, 33; Menasha, 1; Waupaca, 22; Dale, 4; Menasha, 1; Milwaukee, 90; Wausau, 4; Stevens Point, 24.

Among the important business to be brought before the meeting is the election of a Wisconsin member of the executive committee to succeed L. W. Hollister of Oshkosh. State trail committees will be named for assessments and finance, resolutions and general subjects, publicity, information, marking and road location and road improvement and legislation. Reports of committees for the present year will be submitted. The meeting will begin at 9:30 Monday morning and L. W. Hollister will preside. Frank Cannon, secretary of the Wisconsin Good roads association, will address the delegates on the subject, "The Yellowstone Trail in Wisconsin." H. O. Cooley will respond. At A. Bruce of Stevens Point has arrangements for the meeting in charge. Similar meetings will be held in all states through which the trail passes and action taken at these meetings will govern the 1922 policy of the association.

Factories Here Have Enough Coal for Winter

A large portion of the coal now shipped up Fox river by boat is going through to Oshkosh. More than 1,000 tons, on three barges, destined for that city passed through the local locks Tuesday. The mills in and below Appleton are well supplied with coal and are easing up somewhat on shipments. The amount of coal shipped up Fox river this season is the largest in the history of local navigation.

NO INSTRUCTIONS ON THREATENED STRIKE

Local station agents have received no instructions from their headquarters concerning the threatened railway strike and are not in position to make any predictions. The only information they have is what they have read in daily newspapers. Local employees of the various branches of the roads are also depending on newspapers for their information and have no "inside tips" to give out.

WAIT UNTIL DEC. 1 TO ORDER NEW LICENSE

Orders for 1922 automobile license plates may be mailed to the secretary of state, Madison, any time after Dec. 1, according to announcement of Elmer S. Hall. This year's total of licenses issued is 320,000, an increase of 47,000 over the previous year. Licenses for next year are to be issued Jan. 1 and are being rushed to completion by inmates of Waupun state prison. The plates are to be dark green with white numerals.

Do you care as much for your babies as a florist cares for his flowers?

EVERY florist knows this: Flowers which will thrive in air warmed by hot-water radiators will wilt in the heat from a hot-air furnace or stove.

Warm, moist air builds health; hot, dry air undermines it.

Have you ever considered these facts in their relation to the winter health of your babies?

The American Radiator Company considered them when conducting the scientific experiments that produced ARCOLA.

You simply must see ARCOLA. It is new and different. Built by the Company whose larger heating plants warm mansions, cathedrals and even the White House itself, it is guaranteed to be the most perfect hot-water heating outfit for small homes and stores which science has produced.

The red and yellow card at the right is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (you used to call him Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window. It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and report on your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

For the sake of your babies' health—for the sake of your bank account—get your Heating Engineer and see ARCOLA today.

SHOULD BE NO STRIKE

There have been two main criticisms of the transportation act. One of these, put forward by those with more or less normal hostility to the railroads, was that profits were guaranteed by the government. This charge was wholly outside the facts, for the act does not guarantee earnings in any sense of the word. The most extreme interpretation of the law is that the railroads may earn as much as they can out of the rates prescribed by the interstate commerce commission. This criticism of the act, therefore, is without force.

The other indictment of the law is more serious. It has to do with the section which sets up a body for the arbitration of differences between the railroads and their employees and which undertook to hear and settle grievances by both sides. The body is known as the labor board and it is as a result of its orders that the strike scheduled for next Sunday has been called. The weakness of this part of the transportation act lies in the fact that there is no power conferred upon the board to enforce its orders or decisions. This authority was originally written into the bill, but it was stricken out because of the opposition of organized labor. The law, therefore, has no "teeth" in it by which definite results may be assured. It was argued at the time the bill was before the congress that any award of the labor board would carry such moral force that neither side could reject it. This does not appear to be the case, however, as the order to strike is a refusal to abide by the award of the labor board, reducing wages by twelve per cent.

If we judge the transportation law from the standpoint of its efficacy in preventing strikes, we must admit that it is a failure. Whether the strike now threatened actually takes place or not, it is clear that there is nothing to prevent the men from going out. Every day, however, lessens the probability of a strike, not only because of defection in the ranks of the prospective strikers, but because their moral position is weakened in the eyes of the public. We think it is the almost universal consensus of opinion, both by friends of organized labor as well as supporters of the railroads, that this is not the time for a strike. Quite regardless of the merits of the claims of the men, it is obvious that they have selected an inopportune moment to take their case to the public. With from five to six million men out of employment in the United States, with winter at hand, fuel distribution inadequate and business in a state of severe depression, the public is certain to regard a widespread railroad strike with great disfavor.

In our judgment it would be one of the worst tactical mistakes organized labor has yet made in this country to go through with the strike program. We think at least some of the railroads would welcome a strike on the theory they would gain by it at the expense of labor. Men should not get the idea that the public is opposed to them as an organization, or that it does not desire to see them well paid and well protected in their rights. It is not a question of sympathy for their aims, but rather a question of sane policy. The railroad labor board has made its decisions and the public expects the brotherhoods to abide by them, at least until some better method is perfected for determining disputes and wage standards. We think the very best friends of organized labor are convinced that a strike will not only impair the strength of the brotherhoods themselves, but will injure the whole labor cause. It is greatly to be hoped an understanding will be reached, as much in the interest of the men as of the country at large, before Sunday.

THE GREATEST EPIDEMIC YET

The country is face to face with one of the worst epidemics of its history. We believe it will in fact be the very worst, that in the number of victims at least it will far outstrip the wave of influenza which swept the country three years ago. It will start in all portions of the country simultaneously and spread in every direction. The contagion will be irresistible and doctors will be powerless to stem it; indeed, they will add to its virulence and will even take pleasure in aiding and abetting the ailment which is about to lay hold of the people in new and insidious form.

The first symptoms of this strange malady are sneezing, violent pains in the stomach, excessive dryness of the throat. There may or may not be fever; that will depend upon the condition of the throat. There will be certain failures of the brain to function normally, and the victim will act queerly. The physician will recognize the symptoms immediately and the diagnosis will be complete. All that will be necessary is to look at the patient's tongue, which will be hanging out, and he will utter deep guttural sounds.

The physician will without asking questions turn to his desk and write the necessary prescription. It will call for one case of beer or one or more bottles of wine, to be taken as often and as copiously as is necessary to relieve the dryness in the patient's throat and pains in the stomach. In severe cases whisky will be substituted in pint doses. The epidemic is already in the air. It will afflict millions. No one will escape, it unless he puts himself in a heroic attitude mentally. Physical fitness is no protection. On the contrary it is liable to accentuate the attack. All this we have on the authority of Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

STREET CARS RUN AGAIN IN DES MOINES

After two months of bus service, the people of Des Moines are again riding in street cars. If the plan which has been approved by Federal Judge Martin J. Wade is as feasible as it seems to be, Des Moines will solve its local transportation problem. The new franchise provides for operation of the one-man car and for a sliding fare scale, adjusted to financial requirements. The conductors and motormen have voluntarily accepted a reduction in pay of approximately twelve per cent.

Profits in Des Moines are to be based on true valuation. With this foundation, fair both to the corporation and the people, it is sound and just to scale the fares so as to produce enough revenue to compensate investors and maintain satisfactory service. The one-man car is not suitable for all kinds of street railway lines, but where it is suitable it tends to improve service and keep down operating costs. As the car is smaller than the regular vehicle, more may be put on the rails, with the result of more frequent service.

Local transportation remains one of the greatest of American municipal problems. The service may be revolutionized some day, but a radical change is not yet in sight. For the present, the valuation theory, as applied to profits and the sliding fare scale as applied to earnings for all purposes appear to give the best satisfaction to public and private interests.

Court Clash on Fair Rent Basis

On what sum is the owner of realty entitled to receive a fair rental—his investment or the present market value of the property? This was the question of the Second Judicial District of the Appellate Term of the Second Judicial District. "Investment" is the answer of the Appellate Term of the First Judicial District, handed down recently, the opinion being by Justice Guy. Justices Dujar and McCook concurring. The opinion says of the market value theory:

"To permit this line of proof would justify extortionate demands on the part of the landlords by proof that the extortionate demands had resulted in an increase of market value for a number of years. It is clearly the intent of the Legislature that a landlord should be restricted to such rentals as would yield not a reasonable income on values created by profiteering methods, but a reasonable income on his investment."

So the issue is joined. There will be an appeal to the Appellate Division in the First Department. This should be expedited, in the interest of tenants as well as landlords, for the stabilization of rentals and for the ending of landlordism. Great wealth awaits the successful profligate in these rich unworked lands. The first French effort under Ferdinand and Isabella to dig the Panama Canal was financed largely by funds secreted in these ways among the peasants. Part of the western shore of Newfoundland is still called the Gold Coast because of treasure earth-bored in cans, interred by those who lost confidence in banks after two disastrous failures at St. John's. Every such collapse means a further withdrawal of timorous investors and depositors, many of them aliens, who for years they came here carried all their worldly goods about with them where they wandered.

Part of the work of Americanization rightly may be to endeavor in the new arrival a warranted confidence in the fiscal solvency of banking institutions. The postal savings bank pays a low rate of interest. But any rate of interest is more than the cracked rug now or the thrashdore stock, as a mere unproductive repository returns. It is the Scriptural story of the buried talent over again—PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER (Cal.)

MORE ABOUT BOILS

Instead of telling your readers how to prevent the second boil, writes a correspondent, you would do them a greater favor by telling them how to prevent the first one. You are correct in saying that boils are caused by certain types of bacteria which have the faculty of forming pus, and that the implantation of germs is the important thing in the culture of boils. (This is certainly gratifying evidence of your scientific accuracy, coming, as it does, from a real estate and fire insurance expert).

The safe way to prevent a boil, continues this master of the insurance business, is to apply tincture of arnica to the pimple as soon as it appears, and I know that two or three applications of tincture of arnica, if made before the pus begins to form, will surely prevent the boil from maturing. (J. C. M.)

Far from the conductor of this department to throw cold water on any real estate who comes forward with a sure cure for anything, but candor compels me to say that I don't think the remedy of mode of treatment worth a hoot as either prevention or cure. It may be harmless enough; in fact I think it is. It wouldn't annoy those bacteria a little bit. They're a tough lot of microbes, the staphylococci and streptococci that grow in the skin, and a little sniff of arnica won't bother them at all. Not in these where they are at work.

Nor will any other known antiseptic—assuming that tincture of arnica is an antiseptic. At least no antiseptic or germicide that will not damage the skin itself.

Sometimes a boil makes a threatening start and then doesn't get down to serious business at all, but just sort of becomes discouraged and fades away—no matter whether you apply any remedy or ignore the thing.

I have a belief that the blood serum itself is the best antidote we have against the cocci crowd. On that ground I advocate early incision of established boils, without waiting for any "head" or "core" to form. And before or after such incision, I have great faith in the efficacy of some such dressing as Sir Almroth, or maybe it was Sir Alfred Wright, suggested: Make a solution of two tablespoonfuls of plain salt and two teaspoonfuls of sodium bicarbonate in a pint of boiled water. Apply to the dressing accomplished or incised boil with a gauze compress and keep this wet. This treatment carried out for several days, I find, gives the greatest comfort and the best results. (Sometimes a very small amount of bichloride of mercury solution may be used to disinfect such a dressing.)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The Night Thoughts of a Dentist

I have been suffering horribly from insomnia for the last three weeks. I have been in the habit of smoking one or two cigars before retiring, but have stopped that and still I cannot sleep. Can you suggest anything for me to do or take that will not be injurious or create habit? (Dr. —)

Answer—Close the office at 5 p. m. and dig for tall timber or the nearest approach thereto within reach, preferably hills, and climb, or hike until dusk. Or throw down the forces and the burr and take up the putter and the brassie. The open air and sufficient exercise to make you physically tired will bring sleep.

Cancer

Much interested in one of your articles wherein you said that cancer is not a growth but a deterioration or degeneration in organ or tissue that was previously normal. We should like to have a copy of that article. (D. A. E.)

Answer—I regret I have no copy available. You may obtain some valuable literature dealing with cancer by writing to the American Society for the Control of Cancer, 25 West Forty-fifth street, New York city. It is true that cancer is not a new growth like a tumor, but a degeneration in some organ or tissue which has been normal. Now and then some tumor does undergo cancerous degeneration, but the popular confusion of tumor and cancer is unfortunate because, for one reason, quacks and humbugs take advantage of such confusion to deceive their victims.

Flabby Fanny

I'm 20 years old now, and I seem to have no ambition or pep at all. During all my years in school I never had any gymnasium work, because mother thought I wasn't very strong and she imagined my heart wasn't good. Now some of the other girls who have kept themselves in good trim are calling me "Flabby Fanny" and I want to get rid of that nickname. (F. W.)

Answer—Gymnasium work is especially advisable for school girls who are not strong, in most cases. So it is for persons whose heart is not strong, in most cases. Of course your physician's judgment should guide you and your mother, and not your mother's notions about such matters. It is a hard word for girls in high school to realize the great value of good physical training. Most of them begin to see the error of dodging that part of education, after they have left school and find themselves a little shy in vigor and pep.

Leonardo's Wings

By Frederic J. Hasdink

Washington, D. C.—One of the first devices by which a man ever tried to fly has recently been placed in the Smithsonian Institution in the form of a model made by Paul Garber.

Garber, who is but 22 years old, has set himself the task of making the whole history of man's effort to master the air. Smithsonian possesses the models made by the inventors of many of the early airships, and Garber proposes to complete this collection by making models of the others from drawings and descriptions.

The model he has just completed is that of the device by which Leonardo da Vinci hoped to fly like a bird by the use of his own unaided strength. The model is made from drawings and descriptions which Leonardo left. It appears not to be known whether the famous Italian ever actually made his flying machine, but it may be stated with the utmost certainty that he never flew in it. It couldn't be done.

Leonardo da Vinci was, according to all authorities, one of the greatest geniuses that ever lived, and he died a little more than 400 years ago. When you look at his flying machine it is well to bear both of these facts in mind. Only a genius could have conceived such an ingenious contraption, and only a genius could have made his modern life of the development of mechanics could have imagined that it would work.

Did Leonardo Have the Big Head?

Even allowing for the fact that Leonardo lived a long time ago, one wonders whether he did not have his tongue in his cheek when he designed this flying machine. Or if it was not partly a joke, then maybe the famous Florentine had a touch of the big head. He had been proclaimed a universal genius and the great man of his age. He was a great painter, a great sculptor, and a great engineer. He was the best anatomist of his day. He had made scientific discoveries of the greatest importance. Princes vied for his services. He was a man of the highest gifts placed in a rich and highly civilized environment—that of Renaissance Italy—which knew how to use them to the full. Probably modern life is incapable of producing such an example of intellect completely triumphant. That was the golden age of the genius as this is the golden age of the boob.

Possibly Leonardo, riding high on the tide of his success, a little intoxicated by it, decided that he could do anything. He had already done almost everything. What was there yet to try? He would fly. He was a student, and he was especially of the anatomy of animals. He now made a special study of the anatomy of birds. He ascertained the exact design of their wings, and also the exact ratio of the wing spread to the weight of the bird.

Leonardo was a great athlete, built somewhat on the lines of Babe Ruth. He weighed about 200 pounds without being fat, and was tremendously powerful. He probably figured that he could fly if he could get the right idea. Accordingly he constructed a pair of wings, which had just the same spread in proportion to the weight of a 200-pound man that a bird's wings have in proportion to its weight. He mounted them on each side of a beam—about like a two-by-four—on which he proposed to lie, belly down, while flying. The device for propelling himself showed both his intellect and his lack of a competent scientific technology. He saw very plainly that a bird had more power in its wings and breast muscles in proportion to its weight, than a man has in his arms and breast muscles. He saw that a bird's biggest muscles in his legs, Leonardo perceived that if he was going to compete with the birds he would have to fly with his legs.

How the Thing Worked

That was an easy problem for him. You would have to look at Garber's model to see just how he solved it. The wings are operated by pulleys. Leonardo, lying on his stomach on the beam, grasped handles in each hand, and put his feet in a pair of stirrups. By throwing his arms up and down he moved the wings, and by kicking backward, like a swimmer, with both feet, he brought them down and back. Thus, by going through a sort of horizontal setting up exercise, Leonardo could flap his wings, so he thought, just like a bird. He had doubtless watched the way flapping and sailing of the Italian towns, and figured confidently that he could do just as they did.

Leonardo was a good man, but like many another good man, not as good as he thought. It took several centuries to show just how far he had miscalculated. Experience with motor-driven airships has shown that a 10-horsepower engine is the least which can fly the weight of a man with any success. It would take at least two horsepower to lift a man off the ground. And a horsepower is equal to about eight man power. Suppose that Leonardo was about half again as strong as the average man, he would have had to be, nevertheless, about 12 times as strong as he was in order to fly. His little device would have afforded him splendid exercise, but no transportation.

Even if he had been 12 times as strong as he was, Leonardo would probably not have risen an inch. A bird not only beats its wings with much greater power, in proportion to its weight, than a man has, but it beats them much faster than a man can move his arms. About 150 wing beats per minute are necessary to keep a bird in the air. A man could not possibly do that and keep it up.

One other point Leonardo overlooked. A bird does not really flap its wings, as it appears to do. The wing motion of birds is a very complicated thing which scientists have not yet analyzed to their satisfaction, but they are convinced that the wing describes approximately a figure eight in the air. Leonardo could not have executed such a movement with his wings.

He never stood a chance to fly. But if his body did not soar, his imagination did. He divined that man was to conquer the air, and he initiated the conquest.

Paul Garber, who has made da Vinci's machine visible for us, is another man of initiative. He was hired by the museum to keep various models in repair—a minor mechanical task. Having mended everything mendable, Garber looked the collection over and found that the model of the first steam engine was so constructed that it could not be run. He accordingly had it rebuilt. He then decided that the aviation collection was incomplete, and set to work, with much laborious research, to make it a full record of all man's effort to fly. He has now nearly finished that job, and is at present working on a couple of Roman Catapults to complete the collection of military technology.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Hasdink, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The director cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. He does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What is olla podrida? J. E. C.
A. Olla podrida is one of the national dishes of Spain. It is a rich stew made of meat, sausages, chicken, and peas. Because of the varied character of the mixture, its name is often used to describe any jumble of words or ideas.

Q. What animal washes its food before eating it? E. R.
A. The beaver washes everything it eats before putting it in its mouth. Water is not at hand, it will rub the morsel between its paws until it considers the food clean.

Q. Was "Uncle Tom's Cabin" the first story that Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote? O. M. H.
A. While Mrs. Stowe is chiefly remembered as the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," she wrote many other novels. Her first book "The Mayflower," published in the Washington National Era, from June, 1851, to April, 1852.

Q. Is there a machine for renewing electric light bulbs? B. P.
A. There is no machinery manufactured for renewing or refilling electric light bulbs.

Q. What was the place where a boy was shot during church time, and what was done about it? J. F. A.
A. The place was Tanger Island, Maryland. There is an old ordinance on the law books of Tanger requiring people to attend church and forbidding those who cannot attend from sitting on their front porch and when the constable spied him and when he refused to go to church or with the officer of the law, a fight followed. The constable shot the boy and claimed self defense. He was given one year in prison.

Q. In what part of the whale is the whitebone found? C. J. S.
A. Balchen, commonly called whalebone, grows in the mouth of certain whales. It grows in dependent plates, ranging from 2 to 12 feet in length, attached to the upper jaw, and forms a fringe-like sieve for collecting and retaining food.

Q. What dates divide Ancient History from Medieval, and Medieval from Modern History? J. P. P.
A. The date used for the close of Ancient History is usually 476 A. D. The date for the closing of Medieval History is not so clearly defined. Some historians take the beginning of the sixteenth century—about the time of the discovery of America, some others use the date 1648 A. D., making the Middle Ages include the time between the establishment of the first barbarian kingdom in Italy and the general pacification of Europe at the close of the Thirty Years' War.

Q. What is a wazy roose? C. J. S.
A. This is one name given to an annual outing and dinner of workmen in England. It is either given by employers or subscribed for by the workmen. Another name applied to this holiday-making is a beanfeast.

Q. Was William Congreve, the inventor of the Congreve rocket also the dramatist? B. G.
A. William Congreve the author of the "Morning's Pride, the Double Dealer, Love for Love, the Way of the World, and other plays, was born in 1710 and died in 1729. Sir William Congreve, the inventor, was born in 1717 and died in 1828.

Q. What is the legend about the forming of the diamond? C. R.
A. Diamond was the name of a handsome youth of the island of Crete, who was one of the attendants of the infant Jupiter in his cradle. It was decreed that Diamond should be subjected to the fire that fash is heir to, so he was transformed into the hardest and most brilliant substance in nature.

A Resume of American Newspaper Opinion

Untrying the Silesian Knot

Differences of opinion in Europe over the League of Nations solution of the Silesian problem are curiously reflected in American papers, which are about evenly divided between support and disapproval of the award. True, much of the support is based on the feeling that any proposal is acceptable which promises a settlement, but there is also considerable sentiment that the League has made an equitable and practical decision. The opposition, however, brands it a compromise which merely "splinters differences" irrespective of principle, and which, instead of being a settlement, is a dangerous "postponement of settlement."

No international question, says the PHILADELPHIA NORTH AMERICAN (Prog.) "was ever subjected to more various modes of treatment, or produced so many baffling failures and complications, and if the League has not found the answer there is small hope that the factors of the problem can be worked out to a satisfactory result." There has always been "an abundance of dynamite underlying the controversy" and to the RICHMOND TIMES DISPATCH (Ind. Dem.) it still remains to be seen whether the dynamite has been divested of its explosive qualities by a wise decision. While the award was accompanied by what one writer calls "the obviously apologetic statement" that it was a new compromise that would "probably please nobody very much," the ROCHESTER TIMES UNION (Ind.) declares that "a compromise was the only practical policy," and the decision, the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER (Ind. Dem.) thinks, "is about what everyone outside of Germany looked for and hoped for." While "Germany wanted all there was," and apparently the Cleveland paper adds, expected to get it," the NEW YORK TRIBUNE (Rep.) is convinced that she "will get all that she is entitled to—possibly more—under the delimitation made by the League of Nations Council."

There is no occasion, the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL (Ind.) asserts, "for the contention that without upper Silesia intact Germany cannot meet her reparations payments as she has promised;" that, the paper declares, "is a proposition which is 'unpleasantly certain.'" Certainly the "displays" which Germany has been threatening as a protest against the decision "would not mend matters from the German point of view," the CHICAGO NEWS (Ind.) remarks, and "would not prevent the enforcement of the Silesian award." Certainly "uprisings and disorders and cabinet crises," in the opinion of the NEWS, "the acceptance of the award—Neutrality—German or Poland would gain a single material or moral benefit by refusing to acquiesce in the decision."

To infer that "the bitterly contentious question has been put to sleep by the action of the League" the BOSTON POST (Ind. Dem.) concedes "would be to rely too much upon the power of such a settlement to silence criticism," but it feels "quite certain" that the boundaries "will stay as the League fixes them." The important point in that regard, says the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS (Ind.) "is that the decision has behind it 'the moral influence of fifty nations,' and that it was made 'not by a war, but a peace tribunal,' and the NEW YORK POST (Ind.) feels that "a League decision, arrived at after due deliberation and after a year there will be a new telephone company that will employ girls as operators. Many are studying shorthand and typewriting; railway companies employ girls now as ticket agents, and recently a number of women entered for a Civil Service examination."

pect that any other possible solution will be received without protest," and the BALTIMORE NEWS (Ind.) thinks that "we have got to the point now where almost any settlement of Silesia, if it is such that Silesia will stay settled, would be welcome."

But, objects the MANCHESTER UNION (Ind. Rep.), this decision is "no settlement of the Silesian dispute." Instead, the League "has simply patched up a complicated compromise which will probably be accepted tentatively, but which has in it no solitary elements of permanence." Such a compromise the PITTSBURGH GAZETTE TIMES (Rep.) regards as "a cowardly unwillingness to make a decision on principle, and as such it cannot contribute to permanent peace." Neither Poland nor Germany will be satisfied, and the partition will amount, essentially merely "to a postponement of settlement."

The "curious part of the affair," to the PITTSBURGH DISPATCH (Ind.) "is that the recommendation attempts to preserve the economic unity of the region while dividing it politically." This, says the BOSTON HERALD (Ind. Rep.) "is a strange medley," which calls for "the cooperation, if not the partnership, of Poland and Germany in the great industrial section of the province" and, it continues:

"They are extraordinarily sanguine who believe that such a demand can be met. The co-existence of political rivalry and economic agreement by the two nations in the disputed territory is a puzzle which seems to have in it more of peril than of peace."

Even though the League's decision "marks definite progress in the right direction," the BOSTON TRAVELER (Ind. Rep.) still feels that "the Silesian knot has by no means been untangled," because "too many complicating factors enter into the problem to warrant the hope that Upper Silesia will soon cease to be a potential threat against European peace."

However, in the opinion of the KANSAS CITY JOURNAL (Rep.) the League "has failed miserably to reach an adjustment of the question," has simply postponed "an inevitable crisis." There is "only one way," the paper declares, "to settle the Upper Silesian situation. It cannot be done by a council of premiers sitting in Paris, and it cannot be done by the council of the League of Nations. A plebiscite must be conducted fairly and accurately. And then the Poles and the Germans must be made to live up to the mandates of that expression of public opinion."

"New Women" in China
Chinese women are rapidly assuming a more prominent position in the economic and business affairs of the Flowery Kingdom. Miss Zung Wei Tsung, who went to London to represent Chinese women at the International Working Women's Congress, tells the London Express that Chinese women in Shanghai are by no means "English women in many things." They shun their drink tea in restaurants, and they go to the movies with their husbands and children. It is only in a few old conservative families that the women are kept in the seclusion of their homes.

"Few Chinese women work, and you do not see them in banks and stores," continues Miss Tsung. "But in this state of things is changing. Next year there will be a new telephone company that will employ girls as operators. Many are studying shorthand and typewriting; railway companies employ girls now as ticket agents, and recently a number of women entered for a Civil Service examination."

Cheese Adds Flavor

Use cheese to give your vegetables a richness not to be gained except by a most extravagant use of butter and cream.

Save every scrap of cheese and grate it or put it through the food chopper. And the next time you make scalloped potatoes sprinkle grated cheese through the layers. Less butter will be required. A little grated cheese added to scrambled eggs is an improvement. Almost any vegetable salad gains much if grated cheese is sprinkled over it. And remember that just a small amount should be used, not enough to give a real cheese taste but just enough to give a richness.

White Sauce for Vegetables
One tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups milk, 2 teaspoons grated cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Melt the butter, stir in the flour and mix smoothly. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly and letting the mixture thicken each time before milk is added. When all the milk is in add the cheese, salt and pepper. Cook five minutes and pour over vegetable. There is not enough cheese put into this sauce to detect it, but the sauce has a flavor that tones up any vegetable.

The Italians serve grated cheese with a delicious vegetable soup, each person putting in much or little. As this takes a lot of cheese the American cook, using scraps of cheese, can give her cream soups a delightful tang by stirring 2 tablespoons of cheese into a quart of soup just before serving.

Sprinkle grated cheese over an apple pie just when it comes out of the oven. The cheese won't melt and then "crack" over the crust, but just soften and stick.

A very little grated cheese added to any sandwich filling makes it possible to use the minimum amount of butter on the bread.

And any vegetable that is served plain with butter and salt and pepper can be made more appealing if grated cheese is sprinkled over the dish just before sending to the table.

THE STAGE

"Great Redeemer" Provides a Thrill

It is seldom that motion picture-goers are afforded so rich and rare a treat as was given the audiences the Appleton Theatre to see "The Great Redeemer," the impressive Maurice Tourneur super production which began a run of 3 days. All who attended the showing of this picture came away with something to think about, after having been held spellbound by a powerful and intensely human narrative.

For "The Great Redeemer" is no ordinary photoplay. There is no trace of mediocrity in it. The whole thing is superb. The story has to do with the career of Dan Malloy, a western desperado and "stick-up" man, who is regenerated after a chance encounter with a beautiful young mountain girl. The circumstances of their meeting in a way suggest "The Girl of the Golden West." Dan Malloy, following a foray in which he loots a mail train, seeks shelter from a pursuing posse in the girl's cabin. The latter, alarmed by his sudden entrance, wounds Dan with a bullet from her .32. Then, in compassion, she binds his wound and hides him from the sheriff.

WISCONSIN PLEA HELPED CUT RATES

Dairy Industry is Saved by Big Drop in Freight Rates on Imported Hay

Madison—The railroad commission is in receipt of a telegram from John E. Benion, solicitor for the National Association of Railroad Commissioners, advising that decision of the interstate commerce commission was handed down on Oct. 22, holding that present rates on wheat and hay are unreasonable to the extent of one-half of the increase authorized in the decision of the interstate commission. In this proceeding the Wisconsin commission filed an extensive brief showing that the cattle increase in the state for Wisconsin since 1914 was in excess of 657,000, mostly of cows and heifers; that the shortage in the annual average hay production in Wisconsin since 1916 was in excess of half a million tons for the year 1921; that Wisconsin leads every other state in the production and shipment of butter and cheese and that the railroads operating in Wisconsin derive a very large revenue from the shipment of such commodities; that the present hay rates from alfalfa shipping points are in many cases in excess of $20 per ton to central points in Wisconsin; that such rates made the importation of alfalfa into Wisconsin entirely prohibitive, and that, unless rates were reduced very substantially, there must result a very large diminution in the number of productive dairy cattle in the state and that the railroad revenue from the dairy industry would be correspondingly diminished and that very extensive losses would result to the dairy interests of this state. In this proceeding Wisconsin was the only state that presented a brief and facts from the standpoint of the consumer. The other states appearing in the proceeding were the mountain states chiefly concerned from the producer's standpoint. This decision should result in the reduction of prices of alfalfa and other cow feeding hay of from $5 to $8 a ton and perhaps more in some cases. The decision of the interstate commerce commission is to become effective not later than Nov. 12.

LUMBER YARD BLAZE CAUSES $50,000 LOSS

Appleton—Fire destroyed the entire lumber yard of Chris Wunderlich at Lily, causing a loss estimated at $50,000. The loss is partly covered by insurance. Approximately 700,000 feet of lumber and 400 cords of slabwood were burned. The origin of the fire is not known. When discovered it had gained great headway. The sawmill was saved from destruction although sparks were flying all about it.

Get Rid of Your Fat

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs without dieting or exercising, often at the rate of over a pound a day, and without payment until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and personally prescribe the treatment for each individual case, thus enabling me to choose remedies that will produce not only a loss of weight harmlessly, but which will also relieve you of all the troublesome symptoms of overindulgence such as shortness of breath, palpitation, indigestion, rheumatism, gout, asthma, kidney trouble and various other ailments which often accompany overindulgence.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you renewed energy and vigor, a result of the loss of your superfluous fat.

You are not required to change in the slightest from your regular mode of living. There is no dieting or exercising. It is simple, easy and pleasant to take.

If you are overindulgent do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my free trial treatment and my plan whereby I am to be paid only after reduction has taken place if you so desire.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR WAR VETERAN

Body of Matthew Britten is Returned from France This Week

Kaukauna—Full military honors were paid to Matthew Britten, World war soldier, who died in a French hospital on Oct. 8, 1918, and who was buried Monday in a Hilbert cemetery. The soldier was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Britten Klein-st. He was sent to France with Chilton men, as the family lived in Hilbert at that time.

The veteran is survived by his parents, five brothers, Joseph, Nick and Frank, Ladysmith; Harold and Raymond Kaukauna; two sisters Mrs. Earl Brooks Ladysmith; Ross Britten, Kaukauna.

In the Maple Leaf Athletic club football team of Milwaukee, the management of the Legion eleven has secured what is considered the best amateur team in Milwaukee. The team will be played next Sunday on the local field. Manager Rennie is negotiating with two or three other teams from the Cream city.

Although the game with the highly reputed Marvill team ended so overwhelmingly in favor of Kaukauna, the visitors showed fight to the last and put up as good a game as any team that has played here. Although it is an easy matter to arrange games there are few teams that compare with the Electric city squad and it is a great problem to contract for games that will please the fans. It is necessary to sign up teams from cities several hundred miles away when fans would show more interest in games between teams from this vicinity.

A game is being arranged for Nov. 6 with the Racine Van Bree and Ryder team. The Milwaukee Right Laundries will play here Nov. 27.

People sometimes get the notion that the stomach has given out and their race is run. And yet it is often astonishing the relief that comes in such cases from taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating. This relief is so pronounced that such symptoms of dyspepsia, as the melancholy loss of appetite and broody fear to eat are quickly dispelled. Sometimes an excess of certain kinds of food may lodge in an acid stomach to cause gas, heartburn, water-brash, a sense of fullness after eating and a heavy, drowsy feeling after meals. This is dyspepsia and the stomach needs the alkaline effect given by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to bring relief. Get a 60-cent box today of any drug-gist and note how comfortable the stomach feels.

All names must be received by December 15th, 1921. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Do not send your cake. Simply send the name you suggest, with your own name and address, to the

ROYAL BAKING-POWDER COMPANY
128 William Street, New York

How to make it
Use level measurements for all materials

1 1/2 cups shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
Grated rind of 1/2 orange
1 egg and 1 yolk
2 1/2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 cup milk
1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 oz.) of unsweetened chocolate (melted)
1/4 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening. Add sugar and grated orange rind. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift together flour, salt and Royal Baking Powder and add alternately with the milk, lastly fold in one beaten egg white. Divide batter into two parts. To one part add the chocolate. Put by tablespoons, alternating dark and light batter, into three greased layer cake pans. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

FILLING AND ICING
3 tablespoons melted butter
3 cups confectioner's sugar
1 egg white
Does not make as smooth icing
Grated rind of 1/2 orange and pulp of 1 orange

Put butter, sugar, orange juice and rind into bowl. Cut pulp from orange, removing skin and seeds, and add. Beat all together until smooth. Fold in beaten egg white. Spread this icing on layer used for top of cake. While icing is soft, sprinkle with unsweetened chocolate shaved in fine pieces with sharp knife (use 1/2 square). To remaining icing add 1/4 square unsweetened chocolate which has been melted. Spread this thickly between layers and on sides of cake.

HILL AND OSMAN READY FOR FIRST BOU OF SEASON

Want Sanders to Come Down
Here and Wrestle Hill
During the Winter

With the arrival of Kara Osman in the city today, everything is in readiness for the opening of the wrestling season at Armony G Wednesday night. George Hill, who will wrestle Osman in a two hour match, wound up his training Tuesday and pronounced himself in excellent condition. Hill will go on the mat weighing about 200 pounds or a little less. This is an increase of at least ten pounds over last winter.

The first preliminary bout is to start promptly at 8:30 and the main bout will be underway before 10 o'clock. The principals will wrestle for two out of three falls, with a limit of two hours. L. W. Rhodes will referee and Fred Bushey will hold the watch. Police Gazette rules will govern the match.

Hill said Wednesday that he is willing to meet any wrestler in the country at any time or place. He said he will not sidestep any of them and would like to wrestle about twice a week if matches could be made.

If Elmer Sanders, the Ashland heavyweight, can be induced to come down here, a match will be arranged. Sanders has a hunch he can defeat Hill but last year he wouldn't come down here and try it. It is believed the big Ashland grappler would be a good drawing card here.

HISTORIC SPOTS WILL BE MARKED

Two State Commissions are Co-operating in Important Movement

Following up the visit of John G. Mack, an engineer of the Wisconsin Highway commission, who was here about three weeks ago, comes an announcement that the Wisconsin Historical society in cooperation with the highway body will mark all places of historic interest or importance in Outagamie county, and in all other parts of the state.

Local men were consulted on the project and expressed a willingness to lend their assistance. No funds are provided by the state for his purpose, but the two organizations will select the various spots and then will put the matter up to each community, with assurance that the small amount needed will be obtained to purchase necessary markers.

This work is specifically in charge of the committee on historic landmarks, headed by John A. Hazelwood, chairman. Its membership is to be increased to 25 so all sections of the state may be represented and all important and deserving sites brought to the society's attention.

Sites of old forts and battlefields of the Black Hawk war, all historic trading posts, birthplaces or homes of distinguished men, and all other spots rendered memorable by association with great events or great men, like the house in Janesville where Abraham Lincoln was once entertained, are to be marked. State organizations having similar aims, such as the Wisconsin State Federation of Women's clubs, Daughters of the American Revolution and the State Archeological society, will find the committee ready to cooperate.

FIRST WARD SOCCER TEAM WINS AGAIN

First ward school soccer team kept its record clean by defeating Lincoln school in a close game, 2 to 0, at Franklin school grounds Tuesday afternoon. The game was excitingly hard fought. First ward had not been defeated and is a favorite in the pennant race.

Third ward won from Fourth ward, 11 to 8, in a game played on the Fifth ward grounds.

The schedule for Thursday is: First ward vs. Fourth ward, at Fourth ward grounds. Lincoln vs. Fifth ward, at Columbus school grounds.

WAUPUN WILL SEND STRONG TEAM HERE

Ripon Defeated Last Saturday in One-Sided Game by Prison City Squad

Appleton high school's football line will be weakened somewhat next Saturday when it meets Waupun at Lawrence field because of the absence of Zschaeffer, left guard, who will be out of the game because of injuries. The other players are in good condition and will be in the game unless injured in scrimmage.

Waupun showed surprising strength when it ran away with Ripon, high school last Saturday by a large score. The Prison City team is about the strongest in its section. Coach Vincent of the local team is looking for a hard battle.

Vincent is spending considerable time perfecting his aerial attack. He has a strong line, good playing backs and if he can get his air plays working smoothly Appleton will be hard to beat.

With The Gridders

Princeton, N. J.—With Louie Garrit, Salvo and Alford back in the lineup, the Tigers' prospects in the approaching hard games are much better. Coach Roper is trying to overcome the weakness at ends and is using Rutgan and Salvo on the flanks.

BABE RUTH'S ARM IS STILL IN BAD SHAPE

New York—Babe Ruth is back in town rather "rugged up." The elbow fracture he sustained in the last world's series has not healed and has a carbuncle on his right hand. The swat king is not discussing his affair with Judge Landis. He is to start soon on 15 weeks in vaudeville.

Loss at DePere
The third ward football team was defeated by the high school football team of St. Norbert college at DePere Saturday by a score of 14 to 6. A return game is being arranged.

Yale's "Big Bertha"

New Haven, Conn.—It was "Big Bertha" Capt. Malcolm Aldrich who dropped a bomb shell into the Army's camp at the Yale-Army game. It came at a time when the Elis had their backs to the goal and it seemed there was nothing left to do but for French of the Army to throw one of his justly famous forward passes which had been such a worry to the Jones proteges, and tie the score.

That is exactly what happened, but there was Capt. Aldrich. He had sprinted over near the side lines and, plucking the ball from the hands of an Army end, kept a straight course down the side covering seventy yards for a down on the fifteen-yard line. The rest was easy.

Thereby satisfying the walls of all in the bowl that Captain Malcolm Aldrich of Yale is the ideal type of football halfback.

Tall and rangy build, he stands 5 feet 11 inches, weighing only 168 pounds. But it is 168 pounds of fire and determination of wiry muscles, of speed, courage and grit.

With it all he is of the quiet type that lets his actions speak for them. "I play football because it is the most glorious game in the world."

"I have played it ever since I was a youngster in knee pants and my greatest regret on leaving college will be that it will mean that my football days are over."

"There is a thrill in football that you can't get in any other game. Perhaps it's because of the physical contest, the pitting of your strength and speed against your opponent's."

"And then it's great, the matching of your wits against the other fellows. Baseball isn't it, and that's another game I like."

The last was spoken over his shoulder as he hurried away to answer the call of Head Coach Jones for the afternoon's daily grind.

"I'm going over England and Ireland for a good lightweight and a promising heavyweight. I've been tipped off to several good prospects and I believe I can bring a couple of good ones back."

Concerning the story that he was going to turn over the old Fox light-weight championship belt to the present 135 pounders, M'Auliffe says, "there ain't no such a thing."

BADGERS WORKING ON GOPHER SHIFT

outagamie county crops—8
Comparison With Nearby Counties Puts Outagamie in Favorable Light

Madison, Wis.—The Wisconsin team will combat the Minnesota shift all this week in scrimmage at Randall field in preparation for the game with the Gophers here on Saturday. Opposition will be offered by the freshman squad and Shorty Barr's All-Americans who have been drilled during the early part of the season by plays using Doc Williams' famed Minnesota shift. Coach Keg Driver has been drilling his yearlings for weeks on the confusing style of play used by the northerners and with the promise of suitable scrimmage weather the Badgers should be well pointed for the combat. Due to the necessity, up to the present time of preparing for the Illinois, who were early judged to be formidable opponents, little has been done by the Badgers to get set for later games with Minnesota, Michigan and Chicago.

URGE TRIAL OF SATURDAY GAMES IN VALLEY WHEEL

Twilight Baseball Also Suggested for Next Season—Would Start Early

"Twilight" baseball is being considered by moguls in the proposed new Fox River Valley league, according to a story starting in Oshkosh. The inspired writer declares that, with the return of prosperity, the magnates feel that two or three games a week in each town will be heavily patronized providing they can be started late enough in the day to enable fans to get away from their work without too much inconvenience.

That would be a fine plan if the system of daylight saving could be adopted. The games then could be started at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, or 5 o'clock, daylight saving time, and be completed before dark. Last summer a large number of games were played at Brandt park after 5 o'clock, indicating that an hour's earlier start would make it possible to finish the game long before the sun disappeared below the horizon.

If business conditions are anywhere near normal next summer, Saturday afternoon baseball might be made a paying proposition. Many of the business places are closed afternoons, mills permit their men to quit work at noon and papermill shifts give Saturday afternoon on to still more men.

If big crowds are attracted to football games Saturday afternoons, why can't just as many men get off for Saturday afternoon baseball, friends of the plan argue.

More ball games would increase interest in the league race and it is entirely possible that Saturday games would pay. At any rate the only way to find out is to try it.

A Smile In The News

In Kaukauna High School Science teacher: What happens to water when it is heated? Freshman: It gets hotter.

Unless You Ride The Goat Some contraband pipes up: You can't go very far on a lame excuse. We have already expressed our sentiments.

But You Gotta Give 'Em Credit Tom Sims says: Battle ships are floating debts.

You have wit and funny experiences. That's why we need you. Help! Help. This column is conducted by Hoc.

Putting It Kindly Will the person who took the umbrella from the First National Bank Monday morning by mistake, please return to the Record-Herald office?—Wausau Record-Herald.

Heard In Waupaca By Stevey "Shay, do you know Sham Johnson?" "No, what's hush name?"

But Don't Rubber The garden hose. We've laid away, But Mary's hose Are here to stay. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

"Really folks, you shouldn't take any poetry very seriously," says the town wag. "You know a poet will go to any extreme to make his lines rhyme."

But Here's An Earful I always figured I'd fall in love With a girl with a pretty name And I always figured the title Was prerequisite to the dame. Now Barbara sounds so barbarous And Kate is like duplicate And I always regarded Bridget As an irony of fate.

But now I see taint wisdom To set your mind on a name. For Cupid's a cute little schemer And you gotta admit his claim. Now this is not happened in my case It's as true as I've carried a hod, I've fallen in love with a lassie And begorra her name is Maude. (Course we never did carry no hod)

Sam Says: Some folks are like mirrors. They are always casting reflections.

Ach Himmel! The usual backyard winter ornamentation begins to replace the flower beds. We mean the ash pile.

Are We Right? We've heard the modern girl called a "flapper" so many times and we've thought and thought and tried to figure out why she is so called. At last through a long and arduous psychological process we have come to the conclusion that she is called a "flapper" because she flies high.

Do You Remember When the whole town turned out to see Captain Spaulding's mill burn down in the fall of 1879 and how the folks talked about the blaze for weeks after? The loss was about $10,000—a mighty big sum for those days.

Use The Pencil I like to see industrious folks. But don't ask why the hews; HECK.

It's nice to cook and bake and sew But please don't knit your brows.

Advice With a Kick (Sh!) Have a still and keep it still and you can still keep it. (Sh)

Eye Out For Duplicates! Bill Giguere took out his glass eye to see if it was working all right, dropt it on the floor and broke it. He left for Marinette on the 4 o'clock train Saturday evening to purchase a duplicate. —Marinette Eagle-Star.

Have You Ever? Have ye felt that Clutchin' at the heart, That thumpin' in the breast, That strange, uneasy Feelin' that would Never let ye rest?

Have ye felt the blood A tinglin' as it mounted To your face? Have you felt so darn Excited you could Hardly keep yer place?

Have you jumped the Seventh heaven at the Mention of a name And then came crashin' Down to earth where Things seemed cussed tame?

Have ye watched for Signs invitin'— As engagin' as a dove? Lad and lassie if ye haven't, Ye've never been in love.

Have ye felt so Blame infernal that Ye nearly called a hearse? Have ye felt so sheer downhearted That things went From bad to worse?

Have ye been so Ding disgusted you were Hotter than a stove? If ye haven't had and lassie Ye've never been in love.

You Licker! Sally says: Bier and light whines may do for the dead but they ain't no account to live folks.

Conclusive Proof We didn't use to believe on the effect of exterior circumstances on the subconscious mind. Now we're convinced. The sale of beer is to be permitted in only 11 states. That's right. This is the football season. Isn't it?

Possibly Charles A. Kirchhoff, astrologist, announced in Milwaukee Monday that in his consultations with the astrological bodies he discovered indications that the price of candy and jewelry would drop. This may be one of the effects of moonshine.

Nice Girls A girl I like Is Edna Fry; She can not sing And does not try. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

A girl I like Is Hattie Hall; She never puffs A fag at all. —Birmingham Age-Herald.

A girl I like Is my dear spouse; She lets me smoke Throughout the house. —Newark (Ohio) Advocate.

A girl I like Is Ina Dale; She doesn't keep Me spending kale. HECK.

Columbus, Ohio. — John Freeman Haynes, after riding approximately 2,500,000 miles in the past 47 years—or the equivalent of 100 times around the world—is retired with regrets.
After being an engineer for 47 consecutive years, the past 34 on the Norfolk & Western train running between Columbus and Portsmouth, he has been pensioned.
Still vigorous, "Baldy" might have gone on and on, transporting his human freight along the Scioto Valley. If he hadn't had a birthday this October. He reached three score and ten that day, and under the company's pension rule engineers must be retired at that age.
Now "Baldy" is hard put to pass the time.
"I can't imagine I'm through for good," he says, as he potters around the house, vainly seeking a thrill in small tasks. "I just seem to be taking a vacation."
"The big thing and the only thing in the world is faithful and loyal work."
Some Thrillers
"Baldy" has been in several collisions, while 14 times the wheels of his iron servant have snuffed out a human life.
But never was it "Baldy's" fault.
"No engineer can have much respect for the intelligence of folks," says Baldy. "When he sees how often they try to beat the train to the crossing, what chances they take needlessly, he gives up hoping and prays for the best."
In some respects modern railroad is play compared with what it used to be, according to "Baldy," who, by the way, has a fine crop of steel-gray hair, the nickname having been born when he was 15 and an attack of scarlet fever had left him temporarily bald.
"For example, today both the railroad and the engineer are penalized if he works more than 16 consecutive hours without rest," says Baldy. "About 20 years ago I switched cars for one solid week, without taking off my clothes."

DEATHS

FRED TIEDT

Fred Tiedt, 58, died Tuesday night at his home at 762 Center-st. He had been a resident of the county for 53 years, coming here from Germany with his parents at the age of 5 years. Shortly after his marriage to Miss Lena Rehmer 34 years ago he moved on a farm in Black Creek, where he made his home for 3 years and from there went to Greenville, where he resided for 20 years. Because of ill health he removed to Appleton about a year ago. He is survived by his widow, nine children, mother, Mrs. Augusta Tiedt, and three brothers. The children are Mrs. William Egger, William Tiedt, Appleton; Mrs. William Landen, Mrs. Edward Zintow, New London; Mrs. August Buecking, Center; Mrs. August Mesick, Fred Tiedt, Greenville; Mrs. Edward Nelson, Nora Springs, Ia.; and Mrs. H. Brockmann, Grand Chute. The brothers are William and Louis Tiedt of Appleton and Robert Tiedt of Center. The funeral will be held from the late home at 1:30 Friday afternoon and at 2 o'clock from Zion Lutheran church. The Rev. Theodore Alarth will have charge of the services. The interment will be in Greenville cemetery.
